REPULSE ALL ATTACKS

American Army in France Now an Efficient Force in Holding Back the Huns' Savage Attacks on Lines.

Washington, April 11.—Today's casualty list from General Pershing gives one hundred and twenty-four names. As announced by the war department it shows one killed in action; two died of wounds, five died of accidents, and thirteen of disease; sixty-nine severely wounded, and four reported missing.

With the American Army in France, April 11.—The Germans attempted attacks against American positions north of the Toul just before sunrise this morning and were completely repulsed. The German prisoners said the enemy planned the attack with a force of 800 men but was stopped in its full strength by effective fire of American artillery. The Americans lost no prisoners. One of the German prisoners died of wounds. The attack was the heaviest yet made on an American force. Brilliant work by American gunners dispersed the German infantry before they reached the wire entanglement, and those of the enemy who got into the

The German attack came after violent artillery bombardment of three days. A large number of the enemy are believed to have been killed or wounded during the

For seventy-two hours before their effort the Germans had been firing an increasing number of shells at the American position and making extensive use of gas shells.

A harassing fire against one of our strong points and kept it up throughout the night, dropping hundreds of shells of all caliber on all positions. The American artillery replied continuously, the men in the batteries working with gas masks on for two or three hours at a stretch.

Advance Starts.

About five this morning German infantrymen signaled the batteries for a barrage to be fired for the American line. The American guns men laid a counter barrage almost immediately. The attackers, who were especially trained for this operation, were selected from the best men in three regiments. They were preceded by shock platoons, but the American barrage caught them before they reached our wire entanglement. A terrific fire against the advancing enemy was kept up by the batteries. The Germans probably suffered severe casualties as several bodies were seen hanging across the barn wire after the retirement. The attack was made in a mist and the American gunners did wonderful work considering the poor visibility.

Over the Top.

As soon as the American barrage lifted American infantrymen climbed from their shelter and attacked the enemy with heavy machine guns and rifle fire, driving back those who had

The attack was followed by violent artillery duels which were still going on at a late hour tonight.

Brazil, Switzerland, April 11.—The Bessarabian diet, according to a telegram from Bucharest, has decided in favor of the union of Bessarabia with Rumania.

Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, in explaining the Rumanian peace treaty, said that Rumania would be compensated for the loss of territory on the Transylvania border by taking the southern part of Bessarabia, which, however, had no great percentage of Rumanian popu-treasurer, plumbing inspector, municipal court, police department, health officer and the board of education were received and placed on file at the meeting of the city commission held late yesterday afternoon. The board of education report was ordered published.

The question involving the payment of some money by the city for work done at the Cullen property on Ringold street was referred to the city attorney for settlement. The city agreed to pay half of the expense incurred in some plumbing repair work on South Third street.

Permission was granted to John Dooley to move a building from Milton avenue to Benton avenue. M. Goodman was also granted permission to place a gasoline tank in the front of his place of business on West Milwaukee street.

STATE GUARD NOW HAS 48 COMPANIES

With the mustering in of units at Bayfield, Mauston, Neillsville and Ladysmith, the Wisconsin State Guard is now composed of 48 companies of 65 enlisted men and three officers each, or a combined strength of 3,120 officers and 3,120 men, sufficient for four regiments.

These companies will soon be fully equipped with uniforms, arms and munitions by the state.

Has Big Reserve.

The state guard was organized to take the place of the National Guard which is now in France. It is under the control of the governor and is organized for the period of the present emergency, or until four months after the close of the war. The State Guard cannot be ordered outside the state.

Guard Reserve.

In addition to the 48 companies, it is expected that within a short time

Wisconsin will have at least 3,000 additional guardsmen to be designated as the Wisconsin State Guard Reserve.

Under General Orders No. 2, issued by the adjutant general, each company of the state guard is permitted to enlist a reserve strength up to 185 men, to be uniformed and armed at their own expense or in some manner other than at state expense, and vacancies in the state guard companies may be filled from the reserves.

Organize in Many Cities.

The order also provides for the organization of separate companies or platoons of the State Guard Reserves for home defense only, when suitable armories, uniforms and arms (not necessarily army rifles) are provided without expense to the state.

Two companies of reserves have already been mustered into the service, one in Milwaukee, the other in De Pere, while applications have been received from over 30 cities for authority to muster in a company (at least 63 officers and enlisted men) or a platoon (at least 30 enlisted men under a lieutenant).

H. S. GIRLS FORM MILITARY COMPANY

Enthusiastic Group of Girls Organized into Two Military Companies Yesterday Afternoon.

That the girls do not intend allowing the boys to surpass them in any form of activity in the high school was clearly shown yesterday afternoon when more than 120 girls assembled in the high school gymnasium and declared their desire of becoming members of the girls' military unit being organized.

The girls are extremely interested in the movement and are making every effort to bring the organization into working form as soon as possible. Yesterday afternoon the girls were arranged according to size and then the group was divided off into two companies. One company will drill on Wednesday afternoon and the other on Friday.

Drillmasters are to be selected from the ranks of the cadets. An acting captain will be selected for each company and these captains will be assisted by officers and non-commissioned officers of the cadet battalion. So far no provisions have been made for uniforms, but it is hoped that as the work progresses and the girls become efficient in the execution of the various movements some type of uniform will be obtained.

Face Is Washed.

Appleton, Wis., April 11.—"Wisconsin's face has been washed. The east has taken the election returns as a hundred per cent. vindication and the state is again considered by them as 'one of us,'" declared George F. Kull, secretary of the Wisconsin Loyalty Legion, who returned from Washington.

"The loyal Wisconsin people are determined to stamp out sedition," he added, "and are waiting with much interest and no little anxiety such action on the part of congress as will make it possible for them through the courts to reach the undesirable element within our borders."

STRANGE BEDFELLOWS.

This war is making strange bedfellows. Evidently "what is sauce for the goose is not always sauce for the gander," still the laws remain intact and are being strengthened. This nation is at war and unless the citizens as a whole recognize it and stop putting on a bluff, the war will be a long one. We shall have internal disturbances that have never been equaled in this country. Unfortunately there are some persons of foreign birth in this land of ours who fail to recognize the necessity for curbing their speech and their personal activities. Down in Illinois an unfortunate man was judged by the laws of a tree for alleged disloyal remarks. In a Michigan city, the names of various German societies were painted out from the directory and from the doors of an office building and a warning sent not to paint them in again. In Madison recently a student contingent broke up a socialist meeting, made the speaker of the meeting and all connected with the gathering, proclaim their loyalty and allegiance to the flag. It is not "lese majeste" to state that right here in our own midst are men who have made disloyal utterances who have quietly disappeared from the "ken of man" and they are not even missed. More will follow, and while no violence is being done, still the law is being put into effect when the spirit of the American people are aroused. The idea of a Ku Klux Klan is not a bad one if properly used as a precautionary measure, but even such an organization can be overdone if not properly organized and controlled. There is one danger that is even more dangerous than the alien enemy and that is the "Red" danger. The "Red" recently made a comparison of this organization to the packers that is amusing, and yet proves the statement that this war has made strange bedfellows.

To see the packers attacking the constitutionality of that section of the espionage law under which the I. W. W. headquarters throughout the country were raided is a sight to make respectable citizens sit up and rub their eyes. Prosecutions like politics, make strange bedfellows. The espionage law would appear to be a bit like those patent medicines which used to be sold in a large bottle, bottle warranted to cure anything from a stiff neck to softening of the brain. This law is a good one, but it is being used by the packers to break strikes, to silence antagonistic editors, and to break up trusts—any bad ones, of course. It doubtless contains unexploited possibilities, for we cannot believe that we have already sounded all the depths of this particular bit of legislative wisdom—and this bit is a war-time, to quote a distinguished educator who was taxed with his failure to observe certain fairly obvious intellectual and moral distinctions.

But since this was written the federal government has made new regulations as to the alien enemy and the espionage laws that are wise precautions. But the one fact remains, "what is sauce for the goose is not always sauce for the gander," and the law notwithstanding. An old adage, "Let the chips fall where they may," is true in this present condition of affairs, until we become adjusted to the war conditions. Still we must not preach a doctrine of hate against our enemies. We have not declared war upon the individual German people, but against their government. If we permit our people to be educated to a hatred of the German people, how can we hope for an everlasting peace in the years to come after this war is over? The hatred of America that is apparent in Germany today, is a manufactured hatred instilled into the hearts and minds of the residents by the military element to spur them on to further atrocities. At heart the German people are not in sympathy with the war, but the spirit of militarism has been hammered home so consistently through the years previous to the tearing up of treaties as "mere scraps of paper," the violations of the rights of man, and the terrible scenes of devastated Belgium, Serbia and Poland, that the common people dare not rebel. They are to be pitied. However here at home we must enforce more rigid regulations as to the alien enemy and the espionage laws must be strictly enforced. A noted educator talked to an audience here in Janesville last Thursday and stated, "There is a German spy in this room now. You can never have a gathering of a half hundred or more men today without an enemy of the country being present." Perhaps he spoke the truth, but let us hope he did not.

CLEAN-UP DAYS.

Now is the time to stamp out danger of contagion in the future and do away with the breeding place of flies, the general cleaning up of all refuse piles, the dumping of ashes and winter accumulations in proper places. Generally cleaning up, painting up and renovating. House cleaning time is always a dreaded period in the average household. One which the head of the house avoids, if possible, and endures otherwise. Janesville, taking it all in all, is in a pretty clean sort of a community, but there are a few corners that should be wiped out and many of them within a stone's throw of some of our handsomest and most prominent public buildings. Alleys should be looked into and "after." The high water is slowly receding, and these periodical freshest conditions always leave in their wake much unsightly refuse that must be cleaned away. The old Dutch methods of keeping clean will not do in these war days affairs, but still there should be no excuse for not cleaning away the accumulations of the winter months and making us all spick and span once more. A spotless town, as it were.

THE BIG PUSH.

There will no doubt be disappointment that the big German drive was able to gain as much ground as it has. Yet our allies could do the same thing if they felt it worth while. They also could accumulate 1,000,000 men and a tremendous concentration of guns at some single sector, and push through. As fast as one regiment was cut down, they could send others on, and on and on, and finally the Germans would have to yield. But the allied commanders never believed that this kind of thing pays.

The Germans may call it a victory. But a few more victories of the same kind would end the war, and not in the favor of the Germans. They have probably thrown away two men for every one that our allies have lost in killed, wounded and captured.

This "victory" will have a tremendous left-handed effect within Germany. The women of the country are already represented as seeking with discontent. They may have raised their boys to be soldiers. But not to the soldiers indefinitely fighting and dying to preserve the ambitions of a ruling caste. This kind of fighting will not help Germany's internal condition.

The result of the drive reveals that Germany, however, is terrifically strong still. She is determined to rule the world at any cost. She will never let that end until she is absolutely beaten down. Let the pacifists go and hide out of sight where they will be saved. This is a time for men.

Our country will have to send a much bigger army over there than was thought necessary even a few weeks ago. It looks as if it would take at least three million to get a preponderating strength. We are now getting the results of the yellow collapse of Russia. We must fill the gap, or forever be under the domination of the Boche.

That big field of all kinds of different crops is not an attempt to make landscape crazy patchwork, but merely the land of a farmer who planted all the different things the newspapers and bulletins advised him to put in.

The fact that the clock has been set ahead may lead some people to lie abed late and dodge church Sunday morning, but it won't make anyone late to the movie shows.

If our soldiers can't get a chance to do any shooting in the trench line, there are a lot of spies in this country on whom they can get good preliminary practice.

These people who claim this is a rich man's war are frequently the same ones who won't work unless they get two or three times as much as they could earn in times of peace.

These pro-Germans that are celebrating the German drive should remember that the open season on snakes is now coming on.

This is the year when blisters are more plentiful than machine work.

Delicious muffins—made without eggs

SURPRISE your husband tonight with these wonderful Sa-Van-Eg muffins. Then tell him they're made without a single egg—and he'll think you the cleverest housewife in America!

Foods of all kinds—cakes, pastry, pancakes, puddings, etc.—can now be made entirely without expensive eggs. No matter how many whole eggs the recipe may call for—an equivalent number of level teaspoonfuls of pure, wholesome, nourishing Sa-Van-Eg with a little water or milk may be used—no eggs whatsoever—and the result will surely gladden your heart!

Sa-Van-Eg is made of pure milk and cereal products—and contains no egg. Don't wait for your neighbor to tell you about Sa-Van-Eg—but try it today and tell her of your discovery. Your grocer will supply you. One 25c package may be used in place of three dozen eggs.

FEDERAL POWDER WORKS LOCATED AT NASHVILLE

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS. Nashville, Tenn., April 11. It is estimated that more than 8,000 are employed in the construction of the great Government powder works here. While for several weeks preliminary work has been under way it was not until today that the stage had been reached where it might be announced that the work was under full headway. Unless there are unforeseen delays the plant will be turning out huge quantities of explosives by August 1. A million pounds of powder a day will be the capacity of the plant when all the units have been completed. Medium and light artillery projectiles may be manufactured later.

SUGAR SHORTAGE IS BEING RELIEVED

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.) Appleton, April 11.—The sugar shortage is being relieved in large measure by an unprecedented "craze" of maple sugar. Thousands of pounds of sugar has been made up already and more in the making. Old woodsmen and maple sugar men declare that industry has practically doubled this spring.

Keep your old weather eye peeled on this boy Lew Tandler of Philadelphia. He certainly looks like a corner in the lightweight class despite the fact that he only weighs in at 128 pounds, and is a "southpaw." At that being a "southpaw" is anything but a handicap. Look at the original Knockout Brown who Darryl Morgan managed some years back. K. O. was a sensation, a wicked hitter and an active worker. He made a fortune in an incredibly short time. Tandler seems destined to follow in his footsteps. He has given Willie Jackson, Johnny Dundee and all the tough ones great battles. He'll be ripe for Champion Benny Leonard by fall.

GOVERNORS TO HOLD MEETING MAY 17TH

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

New York, April 11.—Ex-President Taft has written a personal letter to Governor E. L. Philipp of Wisconsin, urging him to attend a meeting of governors and ex-governors to be held in Independence hall, Philadelphia, on the afternoon of Friday, May 17, in connection with the convention on "Win the War for Permanent Peace." The governor is requested, also, to appoint a delegation of prominent citizens to represent his state at this convention.

Mr. Taft and a committee of distinguished Americans, including Cardinal Gibbons, Alton B. Parker, Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Samuel Gompers, Senator John Sharp Williams, President Lowell of Harvard, Mrs. Thomas T. Preston, Jr. (formerly Mrs. Grover Cleveland), and others, recently called this convention to be held under the auspices of the League to Enforce Peace, of which Mr. Taft is president. Independence hall, where the governors and ex-governors will confer, was the scene of the formation of the league, on June 17, 1915. The convention will be in session three days, May 16, 17 and 18. The keynote will be "to mobilize the mind and fighting spirit of the nation by showing the big prize for which the free and peace-loving nations are sacrificing life and treasure." Among the speakers already announced are Mr. Taft, Charles E. Hughes, Dr. Henry Van Dyke, formerly minister to Holland; Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, President of the University of Columbia, dean of the Pulitzer School of Journalism of Columbia, W. Morgan Shuster of Walling, the well-known internationalist. In addition to these the foremost representatives of the allied nations now in this country have been invited to speak at an allied war dinner, which will conclude the convention on the evening of May 18th. In his letter to the governor, Mr. Taft says: "A special session of present and former governors of states is planned to meet in Independence hall, Philadelphia, on the afternoon of Friday, May 17th, as a feature of the convention on 'Win the War for Permanent Peace,' which will be held from Thursday to Saturday of that week under the auspices of the League to Enforce Peace, of which I am president. I have the honor to invite you to be present. The purpose in calling this convention is to sustain the determination of our people to fight until Prussian militarism has been defeated, confirm opposition to a premature peace, and focus attention upon the only advantage the American people are hoping to gain from the war—a permanent peace guaranteed by a League of Nations. The efforts of Germany and Austria to arouse pacifist sentiment in this country and among our allies make it a patriotic duty to do everything possible to counteract this influence. Our executive committee wishes me to invite you to appoint a number of official representatives of your state to the convention."

CHAPTER V.

A Cry From the Wilderness.
New York seemed almost like a foreign city to Johnnie O'Reilly when he stepped out into it on the morning after his arrival. For one thing it was black and cold; the north wind, hailing direct from Bullin's bay, had teeth, and it bit so cruelly that he was glad when he found shelter in the building which housed the offices of the Carter Importing company. The truth is O'Reilly was not only cold but frightened.

It was not the effect of his report concerning the firm's unprofitable Cuban connections which he feared—Samuel Carter could take calmly the most disturbing financial reverse—it was the blow to his pride at learning that anybody could prefer another girl to his daughter. Johnnie shook his shoulders and stamped his feet, but the chill in his bones refused to go. He went to meet his employer as a man marches to execution.

His heart sank further at the welcome he received, for the importer gave him a veritable embrace; he patted him on the back and inquired three times as to his health. O'Reilly was anything but cold now; he was perspiring profusely, and he felt his collar crowding him. To shatter this old man's

Stop Itching Eczema

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning, itching eczema quickly by applying a little zemo furnished by any druggist for 35c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of eczema, tetter, pimples, rash, blackheads and similar skin diseases will be removed. For clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, always use zemo, the penetrating, antiseptic liquid. It is not a greasy salve and it does not stain. When others fail it is the one dependable treatment for skin troubles of all kinds. The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

onger hopes would be like kicking a child in the face. Carter had never been so enthusiastic, so demonstrative; there was something almost theatrical in his greeting.

"Well, my boy, you made a fizzle of it, didn't you?" The tone was almost complimentary.

"Yes, sir, I'm a bright and shining failure."

"Now, don't 'yes, sir' me. We're friends, aren't we? Good! Understand, I don't blame you in the least. It's that idiotic revolution that spoiled our business. You did splendidly, under the circumstances."

"They have reason enough to revolt—oppression, tyranny, corruption." O'Reilly mumbled the familiar words in a numb paralysis at Mr. Carter's jovial familiarity.

"All Latin countries are corrupt," announced the importer—"always have been and always will be. They thrive under oppression. However, I dare say this uprising won't last long."

Johnnie wondered why the old man didn't get down to cases. "It's more than an uprising, sir," he said. "The rebels have overrun the east end of the island, and when I left Maceo and Gomez were sweeping west."

"Bah! It takes money to run a war." "They have money," desperately argued O'Reilly. "Marti raised more than a million dollars, and every Cuban cigar maker in the United States gives a part of his wages every week to the cause. The best blood of Cuba is in the fight. Spain is about busted; she can't stand the strain."

"I predict they'll quit fighting as soon as they get hungry. The government is starving them out. However, they've wound up our affairs for the time being, and—"

Mr. Carter carefully shifted the position of an inkwell, a calendar and a paper knife—"that brings us to a consideration of your and my affairs, doesn't it? Ahem! You remember our bargain? I was to give you a chance and you were to make good before you—er—planned any—er—matrimonial foolishness with my daughter."

"Yes, sir," O'Reilly felt that the moment had come for his carefully rehearsed speech, but, unluckily, he could not remember how the swansong started. Mr. Carter, too, was unaccountably silent. Another moment dragged past, then they chorused.

"I have an unpleasant—"

Each broke off at the echo of his own words.

"What's that?" inquired the importer.

"No-nothing. You were saying—"

"I was thinking how lucky it is that you and Elsa waited. Hum! Very fortunate." Again Mr. Carter rearranged his desk fittings. "We sometimes differ, Elsa and I, but when she sets her heart on a thing I see that she gets it, even if I think she oughtn't to have it. What's the use of having children if you can't spoil 'em, eh?"

He looked up with a sort of resentful challenge, and when his listener appeared to agree with him he sighed with satisfaction. "Early marriages are silly—but she seems to think otherwise. Maybe she's right. Anyhow she's licked me. I'm done. She wants to be married right away, before we go west. That's why I wanted to see you at once. You won't object, will you? We men have to take our medicine."

"It's quite out of the question," stammered the unhappy O'Reilly.

"Come, come! It's tough on you, I know, but—"

Johnnie had a horrified vision of himself being dragged unwillingly to the altar. "Elsa is going to have what she wants, if I have to break something. If you'll be sensible I'll stand behind you like a father and teach you the business. I'm getting old, and Ethelbert could never learn it. Otherwise—" The old man's jaw set; his eyes began to gleam angrily.

"Who is—Ethelbert?" faintly inquired O'Reilly.

"Why, dammit! He's the fellow I've been telling you about. He's not so bad as he sounds; he's really a nice boy."

"Elsa is in love with another man? Is that what you mean?"

"Good Lord, yes! Don't you understand English? I didn't think you'd take it so hard—I was going to make a place for you here in the office, but of course if—"

Say! What the deuce ails you?"

Samuel Carter stared with amazement, for the injured victim of his daughter's fickleness had leaped to his feet and was shaking his hand vigorously.

Alas! we are refugees, Esteban and I—fugitives, outcasts, living in the mangrove with Asensio and Evangelina, former slaves of our father. Such poverty, such indescribable circumstances. But they were only friends and they took us in when we were homeless, so we love them.

If this letter reaches you—and I send it with a prayer—what then? I do not think too long of that, for the hearts of men are not like the hearts of women. What will you say when you learn that the Rosa Varona whom you favored with your admiration is not the Rosa of today? I beg your pardon, "The girl forgets herself." But, oh, the standards of yesterday are gone and my reserve is gone, too! I am a hunted creature.

Rosa had compelled herself to start with the death of Donna Isabel and to give him a succinct account of all that had followed. O'Reilly read the story, fascinated.

That is how we came to live with Asensio and his wife. Imagine it! A boy, hidden away far up the Yumuri, and so insignificant as to escape attention. We are no longer people of consequence or authority; our safety depends upon our inconspicuousness.

The whole country is in chaos. There is no work—nothing but suspicion, hatred, and violence. Oh, what desolation this war has wrought! Esteban has already become a guerrillero. He has stolen a cow, and so we have milk for our coffee, but there is only a handful of coffee left, and little hope of more. Marauding bands of Spaniards are everywhere, and the country people tell atrocious tales about them. How will it end? How long before they will discover us and the worst will happen?

If only you were here—Oh, my dear—

Johnnie. If only you were here—to take me in your arms and banish this ever constant terror at my heart. If only you were here to tell me that you love me still in spite of my misfortune. See? The may-gone is falling as I write. You will return, will you not? I could not write like this if I were sure that you would read these lines. My mighty prayer—But I will not tell you of my prayers. You may give this letter to your father, after all, and the hearts of men do change. In those dark hours when my doubts arise I try to tell myself that you will surely come and search me out.

When you return to Cuba—see, my father is strong again—avoid Matanzas, for your own sake and mine. Don Mario wanted to marry me to save me, but I was pledged to you, and he was furious. He is powerful; he would balk you, and there is always room for one more in San Severino. If I could come to you, I would—but I am marked. So if you still desire me you must search me out. You will? I pin my faith to that as to the Cross. To doubt would be to perish. We should have to find another hiding-place, and that is always likely, you can learn of our whereabouts from Colonel Lopez.

Alas! If you had asked me to go with you that day! I should have allowed you for my heart! I should have let you beat me today, for you alone.

The candle is burning low and it will soon be daylight, and then the letter must begin its long, uneventful journey. I trust the many wots upon the paper will not give you a wrong impression of my writing, for I am neat, and I write nicely; only now the ink is poor and there is very little of it. There is little of anything, here at Asensio's house, except tears. Of those I fear there are too many to please you, my Juan, for men do not like tears. Therefore I try to smile as I sign myself.

Your loving and your faithful

ROSA.

O God! Come quickly, if you love me.

Dinner Stories

Michael Tusick saw an electric drive into a gasoline station and was so consumed with curiosity that he loved it to see what an electric could do with gasoline.

"The lady who drove the car," he reports, "bought a gallon of gasoline to take home to clean an old sofa."

Jones had engaged a new office boy—a raw looking youth.

"One of the boy's first tasks was to copy a letter, and, as is the custom in lawyer's offices, the letter and copy were read over together."

"Dear Sir," the boy read. "I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 17th ult.—"

"Johnnie," interrupted Jones, "what does ult. mean?"

"For a moment an expression that was absolutely blank overspread the features of the raw youth; then it cleared, and a smile of conscious knowledge took its place."

"Please, sir," he said. "It's what they say to the soldiers when they want 'em to stop."

Little Bessie, who went into entertain the minister while he was waiting for her mother, was shy at first, so he began: "Do you remember me, my dear?"

"I think I do," answered the child; "you're the man mother makes me stay awake and listen to in church."

"I proposed to Miss Peacher last night."

"Did she accept you?"

"She said, 'Yes, yes,' in an absent-minded way, but I'm afraid that isn't final."

"Why not?"

"She was knitting at the time. I don't believe she understood what I asked her."

Optimist.

An optimist is a woman whose daughter is engaged and whose son 'cares nothing for the girls. A pessimist is a mother whose son is on the way to the altar and whose daughter hasn't a beau.—Claude Callan in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

A Mother's Endorsement

"With the children Nujol has done wonders"

Mothers! Assure the lasting, robust health of your children—health founded on regular bowel habits—by relieving their constipation with Nujol, the safe, effective remedy recommended in the following letters:—

NUJOL LABORATORIES,
STANDARD OIL CO. (New Jersey),
BAYONNE, N. J.

Dear Sirs:—

I have given Nujol to my two year old daughter with very beneficial effect. She had always been constipated, and I think the regular use of Nujol was what cured her and caused her to form regular habits.

Very sincerely,
Dixondale, Va., Selina L. (Mrs. N. S.) Hopkins.
Jan. 1, 1917.

Now read this extract from a mother in Winslow, Arizona:

"With the children Nujol has done wonders. A dose or two when they begin to fret results in their being as bright and happy as possible the day following."

Regular as  Clockwork

EVERY mother knows how insidiously constipation saps vitality. The moment your children's bowels fail to act their bodies become easy prey to many serious ailments. By all means keep their bowels—and your own—naturally regular by the use of Nujol—the pure, safe, drugless remedy which cannot harm the smallest child, and which thousands now use instead of harmful pills and physics. Remember that repeated dosing with strong laxative drugs dangerously weakens the natural bowel vitality.

Nujol relieves gently and thoroughly, without stimulation, griping or injurious reaction. Nujol is palatable, healing and reliable. Be "regular as clockwork"—use Nujol.

ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS

We are showing tomorrow and Saturday some very unusual values in dresses, priced at $16.75, $19.75 and $22.50. Others up to $47.50.

Beautiful Georgette and Crepe de Chine Blouses

Another big shipment of beautiful blouses has just arrived to fill in our depleted stocks. A great many of the blouses which we show tomorrow for the first time are trimmed in genuine filet, hand embroidered and a great many are steel embroidered and also other colors which are very becoming; all the late shades are represented. It is not necessary to mention values as the women of Janesville are well acquainted with the genuine values offered by this store.

OPINION CHANGES; HE WANTS TO FIGHT

Beloit, April 11.—A mentally harassed young farmer employed on a farm not far from this city, settled this problem once for all by his appearance before a member of the Beloit draft board and throwing himself on the mercy of the board with a stirring petition that he be inducted at once into the military service of the United States.

The young farm hand—whose name is not divulged because of his evident change of heart—was a self-confessed slacker. He failed to register for the selective draft. When approached, as he was at various times, he represented himself to be over 31. He told the Beloit draft officials that as a matter of fact he is 25. When the day for selective service registration was appointed by President Wilson this young man was not in sympathy with America's entrance into the world war. He admitted to officials here that he did not feel the country was interested in fighting overseas. He believed the youth of the nation would not register. He had absorbed the teachings of men who disapproved of the United States waging a war for the freedom of the world. He did not see how this country could possibly be affected by Germany's machinations against the rights and liberties of freedom-loving freedmen. This was a year ago.

The whole-hearted response of American boys to the registration order and the spirit in which they accepted service in the army and navy opened the young Beloit man's eyes. He began to see that if so many men were willing to drop their civil pursuits to become soldiers over night, there must be something more than quick wit in the phrase, "making the world safe for democracy." Gradually he became convinced that Germany is the enemy of every liberal institution, every premise upon which is based the principles of justice by which America stands or falls. In fact, slowly at first and then with growing conviction, he became more and more determined that the part of a man is today the part of a soldier.

He wanted to enlist.

This fact finally burned itself indis-

But he could not. If he made an effort to enlist he must of necessity register. Penalty for this offense might be a term in a federal prison. This gave him pause. Week after week and month after month his desire to wear the uniform of a U. S. fighting man grew. Many times he was on the point of attempting to enlist. Each time the ghost of his former fatherly interference and the time it intervened a little less strongly. Finally the young man's fight became one of mastery between two forces—conscience and fear.

Conscience spoke sternly. It said: "You have wronged your country and yourself. If you let that stand in the way of being true now, you are a beaten man. And a beaten man's most pitiful victim is himself."

"I'll take my medicine," he said, when it was pointed out that he faced a prison term.

He had but one request to make. This was that if possible he be given a chance at once to get into a khaki uniform.

The board heard his story and has recommended leniency in a report on the case subsequently sent to Madison.

The man who put himself right had won his fight with himself. He will probably be granted his request for immediate service.

DID NOT REGISTER AS HE WAS ONLY 20 YEARS OLD

Upon a complaint made to Sheriff Whipple yesterday that there was a young man over twenty-one living near Clinton who had not registered, under-sheriff Fred Beley journeyed to that village yesterday. The young man lives on a farm three miles northeast of Clinton. It was found upon close investigation that he did not reach the age of twenty-one until February 16 of the present year.

Evansville News

Evansville, April 11.—Rev. L. B. Webb was born August 21, 1856 at North Lowell, Wisconsin, and passed away April 8, 1918, at Evansville, Wis., aged 61 years, seven months and seventeen days. He received his education at North Lowell, the Wayland Academy of Beaver Dam and at Northwestern university. In his early manhood he joined the Methodist church and became a local preacher. In 1885, after uniting with the Free Methodist church, he joined the Wisconsin conference and entered the regular ministry. From that time to this he has proven to be one of its most faithful, valued and leading members. He had served a number of years as pastor or elder, fourteen years as financial agent of the Evansville seminary, and three years as its president. Evansville has been favored by the residence of Rev. Webb for many years. It was while attending a camp meeting near here in 1886 that he met Miss Grace Jenks of Jenksville, whom he married in 1891. The marriage occurred at Evansville and the greater part of their married life was spent here. In 1910 the family moved to Southern California, with the hope of benefiting Rev. Webb's health, but the purpose failing, they returned to Evansville in 1913, where they have since made their home. The beloved wife and mother passed to the world beyond June 29, 1914. Rev. Webb leaves to mourn his loss three children, Zeta G. Florence E. and Douglas J. Webb, a sister, Mrs. Minnie Doubleday of Lake Mills, and a brother, William Webb of Beaver Dam. His last illness was long and tedious, but through all his sickness he manifested a keen interest in the welfare of others.

The funeral services were held at the Free Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. The service was preached by an old friend, Rev. J. D. Kelsey of Woodstock, Ill. Six of his friends in the ministry acted as bearers. Those from out of town who attended the funeral were: Rev. E. J. Roberts, Plattville, Wis.; Rev. J. S. Kaum, Livingston, Wis.; Rev. A. J. Damon, Richland Center, Wis.; Rev. J. Torgerson, Richland Center; Rev. J. D. Kelsey, Woodstock, Ill.; Mrs. Frank Doubleday, Lake Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, Cuba, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Webb, Beaver Dam, Wis.; J. C. S. Millard, Beaver Dam; Mrs. Lottie Yon Berg, Mosley, Wis.; Miss Edna Lewis, Brooklyn, Wis.; and Mrs. S. Gates, Beloit, Wis.

Dr. George Lindow of Watertown, came Tuesday for a short visit at the Harry Blakely home on Second street. It was in the nature of a farewell visit for the doctor has received his commission as a lieutenant in the medical reserve corps and has his orders to report at Fort Riley, Kansas, next Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Blakely, with their guest, motored Tuesday evening to the home of Arthur Woodstock at Afton, another brother-in-law, for a short stay. Dr. Lindow left here yesterday morning for Milwaukee.

Mrs. Carl Wisbaum, who was operated upon at the Beloit hospital on Monday of this week, is reported as getting along as nicely as can be expected. Her many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

The Misses Charlotte and Alice Colony went yesterday to the Royal Clark home near Brooklyn for a short visit. Wilton A. Vaughn of Revere, Kansas, is a guest in the city.

Mrs. Julia Calkins of Madison, spent Wednesday with Evansville friends. Miss Ruth Milligan and her pupils will give a box social and a patriotic program at the Butts' opera school house tomorrow (Friday) evening, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Father McDermott and Mrs. Walter Green will give addresses along patriotic lines. The boxes will be auctioned by Will Finnegan. The event promises to be a very interesting one and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Harter, Mrs. Richard Carson and Mrs. Isabelle Greenwood motored to Janesville last evening, where they attended the Eastern Star of that city.

Rev. J. H. Tibbitt of Janesville, will occupy the pulpit at the Methodist church here next Sunday.

Mrs. Burr Tolles, phone 344 private phone, represents the Gazette in Evansville. Franklin Clifford has charge of the carrier routes. Orders for subscriptions and service complaints should be phoned to him.

TROCO

Compare Troco With the Best Butter You Can Buy at Any Price

THIS appetizing new product is offered as butter's successor to those who heretofore have used nothing but butter.

It is made by an exclusive process—a process which gives the delicate flavor of gift-edged creamery butter. The more critical you are, the better you will like Troco.

The makers of Troco specialize on this one product. They have perfected the method which produces the quality which makes Troco not a butter substitute but actually butter's successor.

An Attractive Combination

Troco is churned from the fat extracted from the white meat of coconuts—the same dainty tropic delicacy you use shredded on cake—combined with pasteurized milk.

It is as nutritious as butter and even more digestible. Like butter it is energy food of the highest value.

You will use Troco in place of butter solely for quality—because you rarely find butter so pure and sweet. Your dealer will supply you with a capsule of the vegetable coloring used by butter makers.

But remember, Troco contains no animal oils, and no preservatives. And that it is made by a company which makes no animal oil products—only pure, sweet, appetizing Troco.

Remember to Specify TROCO

Ask for Troco by name if you want to enjoy the butter flavor and butter quality which other nut butters lack. Your dealer has it or can order it for you. A phone order will bring prompt delivery anywhere.

“Keep the Home Fires Burning”

Tonight there will be American boys in lonely listening posts far out in the desolation of No Man's Land, American boys in the darkness and the mud and cold of the trenches under the ceaseless thunder of guns and the scream of shells, American boys tramping along the pitch-black, shell-torn roads.

Through the long, dreary hours, as they wait and watch in the dark, while dangers lurk on every hand, their thoughts turn to the homes they have left behind, homes on distant farms, in scattered villages, in great cities, and they see in imagination the pleasant home lights shining out into the night.

They Are Fighting to Keep Those Home Fires Burning

You, back here in the peace and safety of the homes they love, can help in the bitter struggle that our boys must face tonight, and tomorrow night, and every day, and every night, until the final VICTORY is won. You, too, must work to keep the home fires burning—for our sons in France.

They need guns and more guns, shells and more shells, they need tanks and transports and airplanes, good food and warm clothes and medicines and hospital supplies—an ever increasing abundance of all the vital materials of war, if they are to drive the ruthless German invaders back within their own borders, and establish for all time the sacredness of American liberty and the safety of America's homes—their homes, our homes.

For these lads that are fighting and dying for you—do your share to send them to VICTORY. Invest today in Bonds of the Third Liberty Loan—ALL the bonds you can. Keep the home fires burning.
